OPINION

The diagram illustrates the experimental design. It shows a sequence of events: a stimulus is presented, a response is recorded, and feedback is provided. This sequence is repeated for multiple trials. The stimuli are represented by boxes containing words or pictures, and the responses are represented by boxes containing letters (A, B, C, D). The feedback is represented by boxes containing 'Correct' or 'Incorrect'. The sequence is shown for a single trial and then repeated for multiple trials.
